Empowering SRN Leaders Professional Program

Description:	This program enables nurses working towards or employed in leadership positions to understand how the business of a hospital is managed and how this supports their role in nursing. Nurses will participate in interactive sessions to explore how resources are allocated and managed. Nurses will also be able to consider how data is used across the organization to inform practice and service design.
Learning Objectives	At the conclusion of this study day, the participant will be able to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Understand how expert judgement is used in planning, managing, implementing and evaluating change in workplace practice</li> <li>• Understand sources of funding and funding distribution in health</li> <li>• Understand the concepts of advanced processing skills</li> <li>• Compare key methods underpinning clinical service design</li> </ul>
What participants say:	'The course was very informative and very relevant. It was all presented in a (sic) enthusiastic fun manner which kept you focussed' 'The course and especially the workshops were very informative and a lot of information and learning occurred for me. The explanation in information on the NMHB was very clear'
Who should attend?	All nurses at SCGOPHCG working in or towards Senior Registered Nursing roles in a healthcare service.
Program drivers:	This program has been developed in collaboration with Nursing Executive in response to recognised need in supporting senior nurses' practice
